Dear Dr. La Force:

Thank you for your invitation to speak at the Distinguished Speaker Program of the Association of Students and Business at the John E. Anderson graduate school of Management at UCLA sometime during your winter or spring semester. Although I would enjoy meeting with your students and faculty members, I already have several long-standing speaking engagements on my calendar and am unable to make any more definite commitments at this time. I hope you will understand.

Best wishes for a successful program year.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ William H. Webster

Speaking Invitation
Association of Students and Business (ASB)
John E. Anderson Graduate School of Management
University of California, Los Angeles
9 January - 17 March and 3 April - 9 June

Dean of the John Anderson Graduate School of Management at UCLA, J. Clayburn La Force, has invited you to speak on a topic of your choice at the Distinguished Speaker Program of the Association of Students and Business (ASB) at the graduate school. Any date during their winter or spring semester --spring break is 17 March to 3 April--would be acceptable. The suggested format is 40 minutes of remarks followed by 20 minutes of questions and answers. You could expect an audience of 100-150 graduate students and faculty members. The noon program is followed by a luncheon with 10 students.

The program offers an opportunity for students to learn from successful individuals who have made significant contributions to their chosen fields. Former speakers at the Distinguished Lecture Program have included Chairman of the Bank of America, A. W. Clausen, Arthur Laffer, and President of Korn and Ferry Executive Search, Lester Korn.

An appearance before this graduate group at UCLA would geographically balance out your speaking at schools in the Northeast, Midwest, and Southwest. However, since you addressed the World Affairs Council in San Francisco in September and will speak at Town Hall on 31 March --UCLA's spring break time --you may not wish to make another trip to the west coast. If you agree, please sign the letter of regret attached for your signature.

Dear Mr. Webster:

Each year as part of our Distinguished Speaker Program, the Association of Students and Business (ASB) at the John E. Anderson Graduate School of Management invites a few outstanding business, academic and political leaders to talk with students about their professional experiences. The program offers an invaluable opportunity for students to learn from highly successful individuals who have made significant contributions to their chosen fields. At the same time, the program offers our guests an opportunity to exchange ideas with graduate business students and gain a better understanding of the leaders of tomorrow.

On behalf of the ASB, it is my pleasure to invite you to participate in the 1988-89 Distinguished Speaker Program. The format and timing for the program are flexible, but usually include an official speaking session from 12:00 - 1:00 P.M. The topic is chosen by the speaker, and the last twenty minutes are typically given over to questions from the students. Following the session, the Distinguished Speaker Committee hosts a luncheon in the speaker's honor.

This year, Doug Regan serves as Distinguished Speaker Committee chairman. He will contact your office soon to answer any questions you may have about the Program and to discuss possible arrangements. Meanwhile, I have enclosed our 1988-89 academic calendar for your reference; your visit could be arranged at any convenient time between now and June 1989.

I am confident that your visit would provide a very rewarding and memorable educational experience for our students and would be of great interest to you as well. On behalf of the ASB, I thank you very much for your consideration.

With best wishes.

Cordially,

J. Clayburn La Force
